EAR KIDDIE COUSINS: This month you have not sent me any suitable odd drawings. That is to say, drawings not made on the subject given for the July contest, to be published in the box after the reward winners have been shown. On this account I have arranged to give over the opposite column to your poems and stories, which are very delightful indeed, until the July award drawings begin to appear, which will be on Wednesday, Aug. 2. I am sure that you will appreciate this opportunity to write more and read more of what other clever members have written. COUBIN ELEANOR.

My Dear Cousin Bleanor: I enjoyed lecking over those lovely pictures drawn by some of the members and also your peetly pictures. Every Monday, Wednesday and Priday I am first to get the paper. I wait patiently for those three days. When I get old shough I have made up my mind to be an artist like you, because I am interested in grawing. Yours turly, RELEN NORDHEIM.

Dear Cousin Eleanor: Wednesday was the lest day I had to save my certificates. I could hardly wait until the day caree. Instead of buying candy with my pennies. I bought The Evening World. I will be very good to belong to your club. I think it was very kind of you to get up this little club, and if all children take such interest in it as I do I think there are many children that go to bed happy.
